A NEW NOVEL.

Just Published, and for Sale by
COTTOM & STEWART,
Price 1 Dollar,
GLENCARN; OR THE DISAPPOINTMENTS OF YOUTH,
A NOVEL.

By George Watterston, Esq.
Of Washington City,
Author of the Lawyer and Child of Feeling.

The celebrity of this author's "LAWYER," and "CHILD OF FEELING" induced the publishers to engage in this work, and without detracting from the merits of the former feel themselves justified in stating that his GLENCARN is superior to either. It is submitted without further recommendation, with a wish that the American reviewers may give further encouragement to this young gentleman's endeavors to entertain instruct and ameliorate his fellow citizens, in a way seemingly well calculated to attract their attention.

Public Sale.

UNDER the authority of a deed of trust from Samuel Bailey to us, for the purpose of securing the payment of certain debts to William Wilson, surviving administrator of Cumberland Wilson, deceased, and to Benjamin Botts, we will offer at public sale, for cash, on the 19th day of March next, at the front door of the court-house, in Fairfax county, a TRACT OF LAND, in the said county, described in the deed as situated on Occoquan Creek, adjoining to the town of Colchester, and devised to the said Samuel Bailey by his father William Bailey—supposed to contain four hundred acres.

Thomas Harrison, jun.
R. I. Taylor.
December 9.

FROM THE PARIS ARGUS.

LEGISLATIVE BODY.

Presidency of the count of the empire Fontanes

SEQUEL OF THE SITTING OF THE 11th DECEMBER.

[CONCLUDED.]

The President.—Minister of the interior and members of the council of state, gentlemen, you were sure of inspiring a great interest in this assemby. You have described the glory of the monarch in sketching the blessings of his administration. It is not enough for him to have so often vanquished his enemies in battle; he means to destroy even their last hopes. He in some measure completes their defeat, by more and more strengthening his interna government.

Every thing must be extraordinary like him in the events of his reign.

In former times, after a few years of war, an empty treasury compelled even the vanquisher to sue for peace. In these days, the keeping up of so many armies has not interrupted the successive amelioration of our finances.

Formerly the signal of war suspended all the useful establishments and the national monuments on which is imprinted the magnificence of the kings. At present, the cities are every where embellishing. It might be said that this people, so terrible out of the country, are occupied at home only in preparing the age of peace, arts & fetes.

In fine, war has at all times weakened the force of the laws and of the police. Now the public tranquillity is maintained by the wisest and the most vigilant police. With mendicity has disappeared the scourge of all the disorders which follow her train.

That influence of a good administration was felt even during the absence of the prince. Although at three hundred leagues distance from the frontiers he animated and regulated every thing. As soon as the English appeared, all France flew spontaneously to arms. When they fled they as speedily laid them down. Being admirable in his movements and not less admirable in his repose, he has shewn to Europe the energy and wisdom which characterize a great nation. He has shewn what that nation can do under the all powerful hand which hurls it or moderates its course at its pleasure.

Such, Mr. le ministre de l'interieur, is the great picture which you have set before us. You could not better praise the sovereign than by relating the history of his life, orators have been long told that nothing was greater than the actions of his life simply told. It must be added that nothing is more eloquent than his words. It is in faithfully repeating them that he is to be shewn in all his glory. How affected we were the last time we heard him, when he expressed his wish to live thirty years in order for thirty years to serve his subjects! Never did more royal words issue from the heart of a great king. Royalty is really nothing else than the most sacred, the most useful and the most eminent of all services; it was instituted only for the happiness of mankind. Happy the prince who so well knows his duties and his dignity, and who expresses them with so much nobleness! What Frenchman does not now form the same wish as he! Yes: may he live thirty years; may his life be prolonged for a much longer period; and since all the prodigies appear to be reserved for him alone, let us hope that so memorable a reign will surpass all others in duration, in like manner as it surpasses them all in power and grandeur.

14th,

The counsellors of state count Regnault (of St. Jean d'Angely) Cholet and Rajac, presented a project of law of which the following are the provisions.

Art. I. Government is authorised to sell the twenty one and two third shares of the canal of the south.

Shall be also sold the canals of Orleans and of the Going, the canal of the centre and that of St. Quentin.

II. The produce of the sale of those canals shall be paid into the chest of the sinking fund. The sum shall be employed in the first place in terminating, 1. the Napoleon canal, which joins the Rhone to the Saone; 2. the canal of Burgundy, which joins the Seine to the Saone; 3. the great canal of the north, which joins the Scheld to the Rhine.

The surplus of the funds shall be allotted for works relating to the communication of the canal of the Ourcq with the Meuse, to the improvement of the navigation of the Seine, of the Marne, and to the encreasing of the means of communication with Paris, together with the works of public utility.

III. The alienation and valuation of the canals and portion of canals as specified in article I, the general conditions and the form of the sale, the mode of transfer of the property to the purchasers, the mode of transfer of the property to the purchasers, the mode of possession by the shareholders, the direction of the society and the manner of administering the alienated canals, shall be fixed by public rules of administration.

Mr. Regnaud afterwards laid down the grounds of the provisions of that project of law, which is to be debated on the 22d.—The legislative body ordered it to be referred, together with the grounds, to their committee of internal administration.

LIVERPOOL, 2nd Jan. 1810.

It has, occasionally, been our practice, and it may not, perhaps be uninteresting to you, at the present time, to retrace the causes, which have influenced the demand for your produce, since our last printed circular. Our market was then in a depressed and declining state; in which situation it remained, with a few exceptions, for a considerable time, unmarked by any political incident of importance. During this period, the holders were convinced, that they had over-rated the causes, under the influence of which they had acted; and in proportion as their confidence lessened, their anxiety encreased, to diminish the weight of their stocks; while the dealers, anticipating a further reduction, declined all purchases, which were not required by actual necessity. Under these circumstances, accounts were received from the U. States, that extensive shipments were making for British markets, through the medium of neutral depots; and the tenor of these advices, by no means decisive, was generally considered as not unfavorable to a happy termination of our differences.—The arrival, at this moment, of several vessels, direct, in opposition to the restrictions of the non-intercourse law, caused a strong sensation, productive of a very decided change, and, under the impression that abundant supplies would by some way be received, many persons, who had marked, with painful precision, that their loss was only encreased by delay, resolved, by an instant sale to avert its further accumulation. A large quantity of produce was, in this manner, forced upon the market, and the effects were obvious in the decline which was immediately experienced. The first impression, however, soon subsided, and a tendency to improvement began to be generally evinced. To this disposition, a powerful impulse was, very unexpectedly given by the receipt of intelligence stating the unfortunate failure of Mr. Jackson's negociations; although it was supposed in the first instance, that this information had been clothed, by interested motives, with a darker coloring than the facts would be found to justify, yet sales to a considerable extent, were made at advanced prices. The president's message to congress, which has been received, removes every shadow of doubt upon this important question, and by fully confirming the unfortunate result of the proceedings at Washington, has, destroyed the last support upon which we had rested our feeble hopes of more favorable tidings. The spirit of speculation which had already been strongly excited, now appeared with encreased ardor; the demand became general and urgent, and almost every description of our produce was bought with an avidity, the effects of which have been strikingly displayed in the prices to which they have attained.

The importance of the present period, as affecting cotton, has been very perceptible, in the extensive and animated demand, which was experienced, both from the dealers and speculators. Uplands now sell at 1s 8d a 1s 10d; Tennessee at 1s 8d a 1s 9d; and New Orleans, the principal part of which consists of inferior qualities, at 1s 8d a 1s 10 1-2d; middling sea islands have obtained 2s a 2s 1 1-2d; good 2s 3d a 2s 4d; and a few fine and clean have reached 2s 5 1-2d a 2s 6d; some particularly prime parcels may be worth 2s 7d a 2s 8d: Bourbons are very much wanted, and would probably realise 4s 10d a 5s per lb. The present stock of cotton in this port, cannot be ascertained with any degree of accuracy, from the difficulty which frequently arises in discriminating between the sales to speculators, and those which are made to the consumers. The quantity of all descriptions, may, however, be estimated at about 70,000 a 75,000 bags.

Ashes have not been influenced so much as most other articles; the heavy stock on hand, and the expectation that our supplies from Canada will be as extensive as formerly, have rendered them less an object of speculation. Good pots sell readily at 59s a 62s, and pearls at 63s a 66s per cwt fresh sound ashes are very scarce, a great proportion of our supplies last year, having been in a crusted or imperfect state.

Turpentine was at first the favorite article with the speculators, and, from the eagerness with which the purchases were made, the prices have rapidly advanced to 36s a 38s per cwt. Tar has also, been in great request, and sales, at 40s a 42s have been effected to a considerable extent.—Some parcels of good Virginia have reached 44s per bbl. It is computed, that not less than 15,000 barrels of turpentine, and 14,000 barrels of tar, have been sold in the last 14 days.

No impression has yet been made upon our grain market, by the recent intelligence. Our demand has, for some time, been very limited, which may, in a great measure, arise from the country markets being, at this season, more plentifully supplied by the farmers. The produce of the last crop continues still very soft, and the quality, in many places, is found to be inferior to the expectations which were formed at the close of the harvest. Fine old wheats are scarce, but not in much demand. American cannot be quoted higher than 15s 9d a 16s per 70lb. Good fresh flour, the stock of which is very much reduced, obtains 58s a 60s. Sour flour has, of late, sold more freely at 49s a 52s per barrel.

Rice has advanced 2s to 3s per cwt. and 32s to 34s are now considered the current prices. The stock, consisting of the middling and inferior kinds, is large, and principally in the hands of the wholesale grocers.

Scarcely, at any former period, have the sales of tobacco been more extensive; the demand has, however, been almost entirely on speculation. We may now quote York and James' River, at 7d a 14 1-2d; Rappahannock 6d a 11d; Potomac 5d a 9d: stemmed 11d a 15d; and Maryland at 5d a 12d per lb.

The demand for timber has, for some time, been regular and steady; and, as the continuation of the non-intercourse law is expected to preclude any immediate or considerable supplies, an advance of about 2d per foot has taken place upon some descriptions. New York oak logs are now worth 50s 9d a 6s; New England oak 5s a 5s 2d; Pine 4s 6 1-2d a 4s 7 1-2d; maple, beech and birch, 4s 5d a 4s 7d, and pitch pine 5s 2d a 5s 4d per foot.

Our market is largely supplied with white oak and barrel staves, and sales are effected, with difficulty, at 22*l* a 24*l*. The quantity of hhd. and pipe, on the contrary, is small, and the demand, for the former, is steady, at 35*l* a 39*l*; for the latter, at 40*l* a 45*l* per M.

The stock of quercitron bark being reduced to about 150 packages, of which only a small part is of the fine description, this parcel is held at 80s, at which price, however, no purchaser has yet appeared. The nominal quotation, for the inferior qualities, is 26s a 30s per cwt.

Several parcels of new flax-seed have arrived, for which 8*l* or 8*l* 8s is expected; but we do not find that any sales have been made, by which the prices are yet established.

The actual state of our market for clover-seed, is very uncertain; it is supposed, however, that 90s a 100s per cwt. might be obtained for a fine parcel.

That the continuance of the non-intercourse law is, in itself, of great importance, cannot be denied; but, that its effects may be overrated, as we have seen in a former instance, must also be allowed; for, admitting that the expences, attendant upon a circuitous mode of transmission, are considerable, yet, they are not of sufficient magnitude to warrant us in concluding, that the present prices will be supported, unless measures of a decidedly stronger character should be speedily adopted. The confidence of some holders, therefore, rests upon the idea, that the non-intercourse law will be superceded by a general embargo; while it is supposed, by others, that the recent diplomatic occurrences may lead to results, which we cannot too seriously deprecate. Hence, it is evident, that, as the present state of our market has been, in a great measure, produced by the anticipation of presumptive events, our future prospects will, of course, be governed by their failure or accomplishment.

We notice a rumor in the London newspapers of this day, that it is in the contemplation of our ministry, to send a new envoy to replace Mr. Jackson. We much wish that it was in our power to confirm this report; for it is to be apprehended, that, from the nature of the late proceedings, a fresh negociation may be involved in new difficulties, and that [illegible] may have been excited and cherished, not the best calculated for promoting a pacific arrangement. Whatever may be the opinions of individuals, on the relative conduct of Mr. Smith and Mr. Jackson, it cannot be doubted that the occurrence of certain circumstances has rendered him obnoxious to the American government, and subjected him to disadvantages which, it is to be hoped, would be removed in the appointment of his successor; for, it is surely consistent with the dignity, and consequently with the best interests of a great and powerful nation, that if their wish for accommodation is sincere, the channel through which the overtures of their government are transmitted, should evince that sincerity to the world.

The only material alteration, which has occurred in our ministerial arrangements, since our last, is the final appointment of the marquis of Wellesley to be principal secretary of state, in the room of Mr. Canning, whom, as it is asserted, he is now exerting his influence to reinstate in the cabinet. It is, still, a very general idea, that, after the meeting of Parliament, (which has been prorogued until the 23d instant,) the present administration will find great difficulty in retaining their seats; but, on the probability of this event, it would be useless to hazard a conjecture.

By the last intelligence from the continent of Europe, it appears, that Holland is to be incorporated with France, and that considerable changes are to take place in the departments, which have the direction of commercial affairs, in the Dutch ports; penal statutes have in some instances, been enforced; the utmost vigilance and exertion every where prevails; and, in the ports of Denmark, several vessels have, lately, been confiscated. The object of these measures is, evidently, to prevent all commercial intercourse with this country; the severe restrictions, which were previously in force, having in several cases, been evaded by the facilities which were obtained, through the medium of neutral flags. The system, now in execution, is intended, not only to destroy this channel of communication; but, also, to cut off the practice of smuggling, which has, it is understood, been hitherto conducted, on a very extensive scale.

A short time since, an Austrian messenger arrived, in this country, from France, authorised, as it is said, to make certain proposals, relative to negociations for a general peace. He has since returned; but the real object, or extent of his mission, has not yet transpired.

We annex a statement of the imports of American produce, for the last year, and of the probable amount of the stocks, now on hand, to which, requesting your reference,

We remain, respectfully,
Your assured friends,
Wm. & Richd. Rathbone.

Statement of American produce, imported into Liverpool, from the 1st Jan. to the 31st of Dec. 1809; with a comparative view of the imports of this and the preceding year, and an estimate of the stocks on hand at this period.

Cotton, from all parts, in 1809, 265,189 bags; in 1808, 66,215; increase, 198,974 bags.

Ashes, 1809, 31,732 bbls.: in 1808, 10,398; increase, 21,354 bbls.

Bark, American, in 1809, 1,369 casks; in 1808, 34; increase 1,335 casks.

Flour, American, in 1809, 169,561 bbls. in 1808, 1,866: increase 167,725 bbls.

Wheat, American, in 1809, 275,000 bush.

Rice, American, in 1809, 23,526 casks; in 1808, 570; increase, 22,956 casks.

Turpentine, American, in 1809, 36,914 bbls.; in 1808, 2,855: increase, 34,059 bbls.

Tar, American, 35,881 bbls.; in 1808, 3,822; increase, 32,059 bbls.

Tobacco, in 1809, 8,071 hhds.; in 1808, 440; increase, 7,631 hhds.

Stock now computed to remain on hand.

Cotton, about 70 or 75,000 bags.

Ashes, about 5,000 bbls. of Pearls, and 9,000 of Pots.

Bark, from 100 to 150 hhds. in second hands.

Flour, the quantity must be small, but it cannot be ascertained with any degree of accuracy.

Rice, probably about 14,000 tierces of Carolina.

Turpentine, estimated at 24,000 bbls.

Tar, estimated at 17,000 bbls.

Tobacco, about 4,810 hhds. besides the Brazil imports.

The stock of Cotton is much larger than it was, at the same period, last year, and the prices are 9d to 1s per lb. lower. The quantity of Ashes is much greater; the prices of Pots are about 25s, and of Pearls 13s a 15s per cwt. lower. Of Wheat and Flour, the stocks are larger, but the prices are nearly the same. Rice is in much greater abundance, and the prices 20s a 25s per cwt. lower. The stocks of Tar and Turpentine are very considerably greater; the prices of the former are 10s a 12s, and of the latter 25s a 30s per cwt. lower. In Tobacco there is an an increase of about 3,000 hhds. and the prices are 10d a 15d per cwt. lower.

Alexandria Daily Gazette.

MONDAY, MARCH 19.

Should the circumstances of the times call for an exertion of the physical strength of our country, from what portion of our countrymen would the call be made?—Would those who claim to be exclusive republicans, and patriots, be willing to take the whole weight of the national defence upon themselves? Would they be willing to see federalists sitting quietly at home enjoying peace and plenty, while themselves were undergoing all the horrors & fatigues of war? O no, this would be quite unreasonable! How could federalists expect to be protected in their persons and property, without bearing an equal part in the burthen of the day? True, my masters, but how can they be expected to bear an equal part in these same burthens, if they are to be eternally excluded from the enjoyment of every office of trust and profit which the country has to bestow? Let federalists have an equal part as they have an equal interest, and they are always ready, heart and hand, to support the just rights, the honor and interests of their country. But while the affairs of the nation are conducted by men in whom they have no confidence, to the total exclusion and political excommunication of one half the nation, they must be excused for not joining in those, lives, fortunes, and sacred honor, resolutions so prevalent of late years.

One of the French writers, to console the nation under the deprivations experienced from the non-intercourse with America, asserts, that the southern provinces of Spain, when conquered, the priest ridden Spaniards annihilated—and a genuine French regieme established, will furnish a supply of tobacco, cotton, sugar, &c. equal to the consumption of all France.

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,

FRIDAY, March 16.
[CONCLUDED.]

[Taken for the Alexandria Gazette.]

Several other gentlemen spoke on the subject; after which the committee rose and reported the bill without amendment.

The house proceeded to consider the bill. Mr. Macon moved to strike out a part of the bill so as to introduce a clause which would defeat the object of it. The question on this motion was lost.

Mr. W. Alston introduced an amendment which had for its object also to destroy the bill. The question on this amendment was taken and lost. Ayes 55; noes 56. The house then adjourned and left the bill as reported by the committee of the whole.

SATURDAY, March 15.

A message from the president of the U. States communicating a treaty entered into with the Kickapoo nation of Indians, was read and laid on the table.

A bill from the Senate for altering the times of holding the district courts in the district of Ohio, was read twice, and ordered to a third reading on Monday.

Mr. P. B. Porter moved the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the committee of commerce and manufactures be instructed to enquire into the expediency of erecting a light or beacon on Bird Island at the extremity of Lake Erie.

On motion of Mr. Sawyer the house came to the following resolution:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to enquire into the expediency of altering the times of holding the federal circuit courts in North-Carolina.

The bill for the relief of Amy Darden was read a third time, and on the question shall the bill pass? A long debate ensued. The question was taken by ayes and noes, and carried—ayes 82—noes 24.

The unfinished business of yesterday was called up—Mr. Root moved to postpone the consideration of the bill until Friday next. The question on this motion was lost, 43 to 57. The house proceeded to consider the bill; the question shall the bill be engrossed for a third reading?

Mr. Root repeated for the tenth time his arguments against the bill.

Mr. Fish spoke a few words in favor of the bill. The question was taken by ayes and noes and carried. Ayes 63—noes 54.

The bill being engrossed was read a third time; and on the question shall the bill pass? The yeas and nays were ayes 63—noes 54. The bill was therefore passed.

The house then, on motion of Mr. Clay, took up the bill for the detachment of one hundred thousand militia.

Before any question was taken the house adjourned.

POSTCRIPT.

MARBLEHEAD, March 8.

CONFIRMATION.—The schr. Endeavor, J. Power master, has just arrived from Gijon, 45 days passage—confirms the accounts of captain Widger as to the seizure and detention of all Americans in the Spanish. A letter from Madam O'Brien, at St. Andero, states, that on the 5th Jan. the schr. Britanni, of Salem, arrived at St. Andero, and was immediately seized by the French general. The American consul demanded the reason of the seizure, and was told by him that the emperor's orders were to seize all American as they arrived, and consider the crews as PRISONERS OF WAR.

The American consul at Gijon had, in consequence of the above acts, dispatched a launch with 12 men to cruize off Cape Pinas, to give notice thereof to the Americans bound in.

The patriots of Gijon were expecting the French in, in a few days, as they were preparing boats to cross the river.

On the 12th Feb. spoke schr. Sally, of Marblehead, captain Lamparell, who sailed about 22d January from Corunna; informed captain Power that he saw Mr. Fillis of Bilboa at Corunna, who confirmed the execution of the emperor's order at Bilboa, and the dismantling the schr. Two Sons, of Marblehead.

Extract of a letter from Mr. O'Brien, of St. Andero, dated Jan. 5.

"This morning arrived here the American schooner Britannia, captain Bunker, from Salem. The moment she came to anchor gen. Bonnett sent soldiers on board to take possession of her. The American consul inquiring the cause, was informed by the general that he had EXPRESS ORDERS from the Emperor to seize all American vessels, and to treat their captains and crews as Prisoners of War."

The schooner Two Sons, Warner, who was ready to sail from Bilboa, was detained by having her sails unbent.

BOSTON, March 10.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman of the first respectability in London, to his correspondent in Boston, dated London, January 11, 1810.

"The frigate John Adams arrived in the Downs the day before yesterday. She brings some of the hot, crude motions in congress. Mr. Pinkney is acting. I hope and expect more coolly here.

"The writer of one of my letters says, that the French government was cajoling the Americans.

"The account brought by the frigate raised cotton only 1 2d."

The British government vessel Frolic, captain Wingate, spoke the American brig Betsey, from Ireland for the U. S. with Irish passengers, and instead of impressing any, the officers made up a purse of 70 dollars and presented to the widowed mother of six children; the father having been washed overboard.

NEW-YORK, March 14.

By captain Cooper, 13 days from St. Bartholomews, we are informed, that the British had taken St. Eustatia, and St. Martins.

It was reported at St. Bartholomews, that a French fleet of seven sail of the line had been seen to the windward of Guadaloupe.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.

Extract of a letter from a respectable gentleman at Cadiz, dated Jan. 14, to another in this city, received by the brig Eliza, arrived at this port yesterday from Cadiz; she sailed in company with the Atlantic arrived at New York.

"There is nothing to be apprehended here from the French, notwithstanding all the threats of Bonaparte.

"Should he even send 20,000 men, we may calculate that he will get possession of the major part of this country for the present; but it is my real opinion he will not be able to keep it. He will, however, destroy all commerce, as far as in his power, except in this rich port, where it must flourish more than ever, from the security of the place."

The letter from which the foregoing extracts are taken, makes no mention of any battle having been fought subsequent to the battle of Ocana.

GENUINE MEDICINES

THE LATE RICHARD LEE, JR. OF N YORK,

As prepared from the original recipes in possession of the subscriber, his widow, by whom they are prepared and without whose signature none are genuine.

Obstinate Coughs, Colds, Asthmas, &c.

Are immediately relieved and speedily cured by the use of

HAMILTON'S ELIXER FOR COUGHS.

DEAR bought experience has taught thousands that oily and heated medicines, joined with strong opiates or sleepy drugs, repeated doses of which flatter and deceive the patient for the present, by procuring momentary ease; experience, I say, has taught thousands, that the common opiates and balsamics, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs, in their most distressing symptoms: that they load the stomach and impair the digestion, inflame the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing and excite fever. But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evinced by perfectly opposite effects. A single trial will prove that it restores the determination of the fluids to the surface of the body, and brings on the common healthful perspiration—that it dislodges and evacuates the tough viscid phlegm or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheathes the acrimonious humor which irritates them, and finally discharges it. Thus arriving at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder for the sake of moderating for the present some of its painful effects.

To parents who have children afflicted with the whooping cough, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Selected Recommendations.

Being desirous to make public for the good of others, the excellent quality of Hamilton's elixir prepared by the late Mr. Lee, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it; which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast received from a fall, my health grew bad, my breathing became very difficult, and frequently I have had suddenly to rise up in my bed with all the horrors of immediate suffocation.—Adhesive these a constant pain in my breast, and a cough, a great loss of strength & flesh, and you may conceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advice of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, but without giving me any relief. Another physician who knew me and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give Hamilton's Elixir a trial, saying he had used it in his practice and always found it to do much good. A bottle was procured from Mr. Birch's, and I found relief before I had taken half of it. I continued to use it & was soon strong to attend to business. On taking cold, some of my former symptoms return, but are always removed by a dose or two of the Elixir.

George Benner, jun.

no. 11. Budd street, Philadelphia.

Mrs. H. Lee, New York.

Mr. Abijah Henly, Bridge street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's Elixir, of a very complicated disorder, occasioned by a very severe cold caught several months ago. He breathed with the greatest difficulty, and was often thrown into weakening sweats when he attempted to walk any distance, and his voice would frequently fail in such a degree that he could only attempt to whisper. He has been upwards of six weeks without a return of his complaints; and desires to give his public testimony in favor of this invaluable medicine.

Itch Cured,

By once using Lee's Sovereign Ointment. The proprietor informs those persons and families who are suffering under this disease, against the infection of which no person is safe, that if this ointment is used at night on going to bed it never fails to perform a cure by the following morning, as thousands who have used it during the last ten years can testify. The peculiar excellencies of this infallible remedy for the itch, above every other, are the certainty of the cure by a single application; the ingredients being so innocent as to be applied with perfect safety to the tenderest infant; and its being not only free from any offensive smell, but equally agreeable with the pleasantest pomatum

Dr. Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Which the inventor confidently recommends as an invaluable medecine for the speedy relief, and permanent cure of various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavorable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any destructive intemperance, the unskilful or frequent use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad layings in, &c.

HAMILTON'S CELEBRATED WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Among the symptoms attending Worms are, disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—bad and corrupt gums—itching in the nose, and about the seat—convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes a privation of speech—irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious—purging with slimy and fœtid stools—vomiting—large and hard belly—pains and sickness at the stomach—pains in the head and thighs, with lowness of spirits—slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—a dry cough—excessive thirst—sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, shoul have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

Hahn's true and Genuine German Corn Plaister,

An infallible remedy for Corns; speedily removing them root and branch, without giving pain.

Genuine Persian Lotion,

The Restorative Powder—for the Teeth and Gums.

Hahn's Genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard,

To be Rented for a term of years

THAT valuable tract of Land, called Preston, situate on the Washington and Alexandria turnpike road, at the junction of four mile creek and Potomac river, and distant two miles from Alexandria, three from Washington and five from George Town.—There are upon the premises a two story dwelling house, containing six rooms and a passage with a kitchen, carriage house, stables, &c. a large, handsome and highly manured garden, of at least ten acres, in a high state of cultivation, and lately laid off by an experienced gardener, an orchard containing several hundred pear, plumb, cherry and damson trees, with English walnut, quince and mulberry trees, and also upwards of six hundred apple trees, and two or three hundred peach trees, selected with care from the best nurseries, and all in full bearing. The annual average product of the apple orchard alone is estimated at 400 barrels. This tract contains about 160 acres of land, a considerable part whereof has been manured and sown with clover seed. The shores afford fish and wild fowl, and one or two good fishing landings. The situation is healthy, elevated and pleasant, in full view of three towns, and is well calculated for a place of public entertainment. Immediate possession may be had and the terms will be made known upon application to
